The wonder of it all

is that A, after scores of punctured romances, meets

B, weathering leagues
of washboard road.

How could so many ‘ve been so wrong?